Client understands and accepts that attending dog training classes may put you, your dog, and/or any guests who may also attend, in a situation not without risk. Client acknowledges there are unavoidable risks of injury when working with animals. Some of the dogs in attendance may be hard to handle and could cause injury even when handled with the utmost care.

Client agrees to assume all risk of any injury or damage resulting for the actions of any dog including their own while in class, or on the grounds at any of our My Dogs Mind locations, or while attending any training function. Client further understands that they are responsible for furnishing written proof of current Rabies, Distemper, and other vaccination upon request and they understand that any time a dog is in contact with other animals it may expose him/her to risk of communicable disease.

Client hereby waives and releases My Dogs Mind and their agents and employees from any and all liability for injury, damage, or illness that they or their dog may incur while attending the training classes or any activity on My Dogs Mind premises. Client authorizes My Dogs Mind to use photos of you, your dog, and/or any guests engaging in class activities for media purposes.

Refund and Cancellation Policy: We require at least 24 hours notice for cancellation of a private lesson. If you cancel with less than 24 notice you will not be refunded. Please make sure that all classes you book fit into your schedule.
